CLOSING OF MISSION AT CATHOLIC CHURCH SUNDAY NIGHT

Father Meagher's lecture, "The Sinner's Friend," was delivered before a large audience last night in St. Joseph's church.
"The Eternal Son of God came down and united His nature to the fallen nature of man. For thirty years He lived in obscurity, the three years following doing good. We find traces of His kindness, His wisdom and His splendid miracles. People were attracted by His message. As a human magnet draws, He drew people after Him. Some followed for curiosity, some for selfish motives—a few who believed in Him and hoped in Him, and loved Him. A small class could not brook His preaching. The Scribes and Pharisees looked with scorn upon the simple Christ. They followed our Lord to criticize Him and to find fault. When the publicans and sinners drew near to Him, the Scribes and Pharisees murmured, saying, 'This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.'"
Father Meagher related the parables of the lost sheep and of the lost son, showing how Christ taught the people that there was great joy in heaven over the return of one sinner. The Scribes and Pharisees called Christ the "sinner's friend." He referred to the modern Scribes and Pharisees as being too much filled with their own conceit.
People of today want Christ spoken of as the "sinner's friend." They like to hear the story of Christ's mercy in dealing with Mary Magdalene. What dangerous conclusions do people draw from these gospels? God is good. He knows my temptations. And they go on deepening their guilt. They are presumptuous. What do we understand by the term friend? The dictionary says "a well wisher." What qualities must the "sinner's friend" have? These qualities are verified in the story of the prodigal son. The first quality of a "sinner's friend" is to open the eyes of the sinner to his true condition. The sinner must be conscious of his degradation. There is no progress when we rest content with our present condition. Christ opens the eyes of the sinners to their true condition. Our Lord in this parable (Luke XV) tells what goes on in each one of us. The will begins to assert its freedom. Reason has hardly dawned before we abuse this marvelous gift of free will. St. Augustine said of himself, "Only a child—already a sinner."
Christ compares sin to swine and will. Has Christ overdrawn this picture when He compares sin to unclean beasts? A creature endowed with an immortal soul and a free will who takes pleasure in doing that which the beasts do not do.
What comes before the mind at the mention of that repulsive word swill? Look at a man under the influence of liquor. Is that the masterpiece of God's creation? Reason banished for rum. Christ spoke wisely when He likened sin with swine and swill.
Father Meagher read the rest of the parable of the prodigal son to show that Christ, being a true friend, not only exposed the wound but healed it over. When a man can see a picture of a sin-stained soul and remain untouched, he is dead to everything good and noble. There may be but one spot in the heart of man left that can give rise to the resolution to do better. It is never too late to make this resolution. "While there is life there is hope." Christ has pictured Himself as father of the prodigal. This is verified day after day as Christ is ever sending us His graces. We find the arms that were opened on the cross only closed in love. Man having His eyes opened to the folly of sin can turn his eyes to better things."

At 7 o'clock Father O'Reilly gave a short explanation of the mass. This explanation will be continued at 10:30 Sunday morning. The subject will be treated in a scriptural way from the sacrifices of the old law to the Jewish priesthood and from thence to the institution of the sacrifice by Christ.

RECITAL ON NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

The recital of the Zoellner string quartette with the Ogden Tabernacle choir next Tuesday night promises to be something entirely different to any musical event that has been given in the city in a number of years. The quartette, consisting of father, two sons and a daughter, is recognized as one of the great string quartettes of the world and has virtually reached the highest pinnacle of popularity in the United States as a Lyceum attraction.
In a recent concert in Salt Lake City, the players duplicated their success of a year ago and, in bringing them to Ogden to close the 1914-15 Tabernacle choir-Fred C. Graham recital series, Manager Graham expects to thoroughly please all patrons.

WORLD'S MARKETS

New York, March 27.—Reactionary tendencies of the past day or two were overcome today, the market regaining all its strength of the mid-week and mounting in numerous instances to higher levels. Trading was very extensive and again included some of the specialties. Bethlehem Steel was the outstanding feature, advancing 8 3/4 points to 76, or 3 points above its record price on publication of the annual statement showing earnings of over 30 per cent for the common stock. Reading and United States Steel were the most conspicuous leaders. The closing was strong. Bonds were firm.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, March 27.—Signs of activity on the part of exporters rallied the price of wheat today after a sag at the start. The weakness early was due to lower quotations at Liverpool, but the fact soon developed that yesterday's decline in America had been mainly responsible for the setback abroad. Buying on the fresh break here was traced for the most part to houses that usually act for the seaboard. After opening unchanged to 1 7/8c lower, the market rose to well above last night's level all around.

Oats suffered from liquidating sales by holders. Pit traders were also free sellers.
Wheat strength, however, was only brief. Speculators did a good deal of selling on May and of September as a result of the wide difference of price between the two deliveries. The close was unsettled at 1-8 to 1-16 under last night.
Commission house corn selling was of an unusually persistent sort. The close, notwithstanding, was steady at 3-8 to 3-8 1/2c net decline.

TO-DAY THE VANDERBILT CUP RACE
THE VANDERBILT CUP RACE: It was held inside the exposition grounds in San Francisco. This is perhaps the greatest auto race that has ever been run. Every inch of the ground was covered by our camera mail. Every accident that occurred is shown in the film. It is a thriller from beginning to end. A few of the actual scenes in this production are: A car going at the rate of 90 miles an hour, leading the race, crashes into an iron post, and all the happenings thereafter; another car is going at the rate of 70 miles, turns turtle, buries its driver and mechanic beneath it; the next great big thriller is two cars going at the rate of 60 miles an hour, crash into each other and completely wreck the two great racing machines. It is the greatest attraction of the year. You can't afford to miss this as it is being advertised nationally and everybody will want to see it. Remember this is the only AUTHENTIC copy of this great race.
